

Welcome!

Foster Lake is a beautiful 25-acre man-made lake located two miles Southwest of Alfred, New York. The lake was created by Eddy Foster in 1950 and was owned by the Foster family until 2003. The lake is a wonderful place for fishing, canoeing, sailing, walking, and picnicking.

It is open to Alfred University faculty, staff, and students for educational use with written event permission, and at no charge for personal use, however a vehicle parking tag is still required to gain admittance.

See the Foster Lake web page for:

FOSTER LAKE

ALFRED UNIVERSITY
ALFRED, NY

Boating

Personal boats may be stored at the lake during the summer and must be removed before winter. No gas-powered watercraft allowed, but low-speed electric trolling motors are permitted.

Walking

There is a one-mile trail around the lake. A wide variety of trees, flowers, and ferns can be seen. Over 150 species of birds have been identified on the property.

Fishing

Fishing is available during summer and fall, but no ice fishing. The most plentiful fish are bass and bluegill. All NYS DEC regulations apply.

Swimming

Swimming is available when lifeguards are present. Lifeguards are on duty (weather/water quality permitting) from 11am to 7pm mid-June through mid-August.

Picnicking

There are picnic tables and barbecue grills. There is also a large pavilion that provides shelter from the rain. The pavilion is available for exclusive use with the advance reservation.
